Dear Mr Slade,

I am writing to ask you about a change in the school playgrounds. Everybody knows that you are the best headteacher ever so I know you will agree that we definitely need electric scooters in all playgrounds as well as a video game area.

The first reason that you should do this is because we know that you care about us. We know you are kind, thoughtful and caring so you will do everything you can to make us happy. Do you want us to be bored at playtime? You know that we love running around but sometimes it is far too hot and we need time to rest so having these things would be great in our playground. Think of all the smiling faces you would see every time you looked out of the window.

I know that you care most about our learning. I'm certain you'll agree with this fact that happy minds focus better so if we were able to do this at lunch, we would definitely do better work in class. Then all of your teachers would be happy too. How great would that be? A survey of 100 children found that all 100 of them wanted electric scooters in the playground and they also said they would definitely get more work done if this was the case. If you really are the brilliant amazing and wonderful headteacher we think you are, you will do this soon.

I'm certain that you will understand how important it is that we make these improvements, no matter the massive cost, for our learning and progress.

Yours sincerely,
Bobby Johnson, Year 4
