

Nature Walk Photography Project

We are launching our Nature Walk Photography Project and inviting all of our pupils to capture the wonderful nature and wildlife that they might find in and around their homes. With restrictions stopping us from travelling far, we would ask you to ensure that your daily exercise starts and ends at your front door. We are encouraging you to look and find beauty in the nature and wildlife close to home.

Miss Ings is making it a mission to capture the very handsome fox, Mr Plopper, who visits her garden every evening. She is also going to try and photograph Mrs Bushy Bum, the squirrel, that hurtles along the edge of her garden fence several times a day.

Miss Ings said, "Not only have I enjoyed watching the wildlife in and around my garden, it has inspired me to do some research about the behaviour of foxes and squirrels. You might be able to work out why my children gave Mr Plopper his name! Trees and flowers are a little easier to capture, as they don't move. Here is a picture I took while on my daily walk. It was a very cold day and the tree branches were covered in ice. I thought it looked like a scene from Frozen!"

We would like to create a slideshow of our wonderful local area and the fantastic wildlife within it. If you would like to submit a photograph please email your entry to lings@plumcroft.greenwich.sch.uk

Please include the following details; name, class and a sentence or two about your photograph.
